Default, Repossession, and Reinstatement

Default. You may be in default if you fail to make a payment when due, fail to maintain required insurance, or otherwise breach your contract. We may then demand payment of the entire unpaid balance, subject to any right to cure that your contract or state law provides.

Repossession. If you default, applicable law may permit us to repossess the vehicle. We will provide any notice required by law before selling the vehicle. You may be responsible for a deficiency if the sale proceeds are less than what you owe, plus allowed costs, and may be entitled to any surplus.

Right to cure / reinstate. In many cases you may cure a default by paying past-due amounts and allowed charges before sale, or reinstate the contract, as provided by your contract and state law. Contact us immediately if you receive a default or right-to-cure notice.

If you are having trouble paying. Contact us before you miss a payment to discuss options such as a payment extension or temporary arrangement. Communicating early generally provides the most options and may help you avoid default and repossession.

Electronic Payments and Autopay Terms

If you enroll in automatic payments, you authorize DriveWell Auto Finance to initiate an ACH debit from your designated account for your scheduled monthly payment on each due date. You may cancel autopay by notifying us at least three business days before the next scheduled debit. If a debit is returned for insufficient funds, a returned-payment fee may apply and your autopay may be suspended.

Your monthly payment of $358.00 is currently drafted automatically; this debit appears on your bank statement as an ACH payment to DriveWell Auto Finance. Verify that sufficient funds are available before each due date.

Understanding Your Simple-Interest Auto Loan

Your loan uses a simple-interest method. Each day, interest accrues on your current principal balance at the daily rate (your APR divided by 365). When you make a payment, we first apply it to accrued interest and any fees, then the remainder reduces principal. Because of this, the split between interest and principal changes every month: early in the loan more of each payment goes to interest, and later more goes to principal.

Paying a few days early, or adding to principal, reduces the interest that accrues before your next payment and can shorten your loan. Paying late increases accrued interest and means less of your payment reduces principal.

Early-Payoff Scenarios (Illustrative)

The following illustrations estimate how extra monthly principal could affect your remaining 46-payment schedule from your current balance of $13,909.17 at 8.90% APR. Figures are estimates; your actual results depend on payment timing.

Extra principal / month	Est. months to payoff	Est. interest remaining	Est. interest saved
$0 (scheduled)	46	$2,558.27	$0.00
$50	approx 39	$2,251.28	$306.99
$100	approx 33	$1,995.45	$562.82
$200	approx 24	$1,586.13	$972.14

Fair Credit Reporting and State Disclosures

Fair Credit Reporting Act. We may report information about your account to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults may be reflected in your credit report. You have the right to dispute inaccurate information by writing to us; we will investigate and respond as required by law.

State disclosures. Additional disclosures may apply under the laws of your state of residence, including notices regarding default, repossession, reinstatement, and the handling of any surplus or deficiency after sale. Where state law provides greater protections than this statement describes, state law controls.

Notice. This statement is for your information and recordkeeping. It does not modify your retail installment sale contract, which governs the legal terms of your loan.

Protecting Your Vehicle Investment

Maintaining your vehicle helps protect its value and your equity. Follow the manufacturer's recommended service schedule, keep records of maintenance, and address recalls promptly. As you pay down principal, you build equity, which is the difference between your vehicle's market value and your loan balance.

Your equity position changes over time as the vehicle depreciates and your balance declines. Early in a loan it is common to owe more than the vehicle is worth (negative equity), especially on a longer-term loan; this position generally improves as you pay down principal. Guaranteed Asset Protection (GAP), if you purchased it, can help in a total-loss situation while you are in a negative-equity position.

Refinancing and Trade-In Considerations

You may be able to refinance your loan to a different rate or term. Refinancing to a lower rate can reduce your total interest; extending the term can lower your payment but may increase total interest paid. Before refinancing, compare the new APR, term, fees, and total cost to your current loan.

If you trade in or sell the vehicle, you must pay off the loan to release the lien. If the payoff exceeds the vehicle's value, you would owe the difference. Request a payoff quote good through your expected transaction date, since interest accrues daily.

Insurance Claims and Total-Loss Process

If your vehicle is damaged, your physical-damage insurance generally pays for covered repairs, subject to your deductible. Because we are listed as lienholder/loss payee, settlement checks for significant claims may be issued jointly to you and DriveWell Auto Finance.

In a total-loss or theft situation, your insurer pays the vehicle's actual cash value toward your loan. If that amount is less than your balance, you remain responsible for the difference unless GAP coverage applies. Contact us promptly after any major claim so we can coordinate with your insurer and provide the necessary payoff information.

Maintaining continuous required insurance is a condition of your loan. If your coverage lapses, we may purchase lender-placed insurance, which is typically more expensive and protects only the lender's interest, and add the cost to your account.

More Frequently Asked Questions

Q. How do I make an extra principal payment?
Submit the extra amount through the portal marked 'principal only,' or include written instructions with a mailed payment. Otherwise extra funds may be applied to your next scheduled payment.

Q. Will paying ahead skip my next payment?
Paying ahead reduces your balance and interest but does not change your contractual due dates unless you arrange it; continue making scheduled payments unless we confirm otherwise.

Q. How do I update my insurance information?
Provide your declarations page showing DriveWell Auto Finance as lienholder through the portal or by email to avoid a lender-placed insurance charge.

Q. Can I change to biweekly payments?
Biweekly arrangements may be available; contact customer service. Ensure your bank account supports the schedule to avoid returned-payment fees.

Retail Installment Sale Contract — Selected Provisions

Promise to Pay. You promise to pay us the Amount Financed plus the Finance Charge in the scheduled payments. You may prepay in full or in part at any time.

Interest Accrual. Finance charges are computed on a simple-interest basis on the unpaid principal balance. The portion of each payment applied to the finance charge depends on the number of days since your last payment.

Application of Payments. Payments are applied first to earned finance charges and any fees, then to principal, unless applicable law requires otherwise.

Your Other Promises. You agree to keep the vehicle free of other liens, maintain required insurance, not remove the vehicle from the United States without our consent, and keep us informed of your address.

Security Interest. You give us a security interest in the vehicle, all accessions, and proceeds, including insurance proceeds, until you pay all amounts you owe under this contract.

Default and Remedies. If you default, we may, subject to law and any right to cure, require immediate payment of the full balance and exercise our remedies, including repossession and sale of the vehicle.

Warranties. Any warranties on the vehicle are provided by the manufacturer or the selling dealer, not by the finance company; this contract concerns financing only.

Governing Law and Assignment. This contract is governed by applicable state and federal law and may be assigned by us. Your obligations remain the same after assignment.

The provisions above are a plain-language summary for your convenience. Your signed retail installment sale contract is the controlling legal document.

How to Read This Statement

The Account Summary shows your principal balance, interest rate, monthly payment, and payoff figures. Payment Activity lists each payment and how it was split between principal, interest, escrow, and fees. The Amortization Schedule projects how future payments reduce your balance. Year-end tax information, where applicable, is summarized for your records.

Truth-in-Lending and Loan Servicing Disclosures

Truth-in-Lending. Your original Truth-in-Lending disclosure stated your Annual Percentage Rate, finance charge, amount financed, total of payments, and payment schedule. This statement reflects activity since your last statement and does not change the terms of your contract.

How payments are applied. Unless your contract states otherwise, scheduled payments are applied first to accrued interest and any fees, then to principal. Interest accrues daily on the unpaid principal balance using a simple-interest method, so the interest portion of each payment depends on the days since your last payment.

Late charges. If a payment is not received within the grace period stated in your contract, a late charge may be assessed as permitted by law and your agreement. Repeated late payments may be reported to consumer reporting agencies and may affect your credit.

Prepayment. You may prepay all or part of your loan at any time without penalty. Partial prepayments reduce your principal balance and the total interest you pay but do not change your scheduled monthly payment amount unless you request a re-amortization, if available.

Security interest. Your loan is secured by the financed vehicle. We hold a lien until the loan is paid in full, at which time we will release the lien as required by law. You agree to maintain required insurance on the collateral.

Servicemembers Civil Relief Act. If you are a covered servicemember or dependent, you may be entitled to certain protections, including interest-rate limits, under the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA). Contact us for details and to request relief with appropriate documentation.

Late Charges, Payoff, and Prepayment

Late charge. If your payment is not received within the grace period stated in your contract (typically 10 days), a late charge may be assessed as permitted by your contract and applicable law.

Payoff. The payoff amount shown is good through the date stated and includes principal plus accrued interest. Because interest accrues daily, the payoff amount changes each day. Contact us for a payoff good through a specific date before sending final payment.

Prepayment. You may prepay in whole or in part at any time without penalty. Partial prepayments reduce principal and total interest but do not change your scheduled payment unless you request re-amortization.

Applying extra payments. To apply an extra amount entirely to principal, mark it clearly as a principal-only payment; otherwise extra funds may be applied to your next scheduled payment.

Insurance, Title, and Total-Loss Protection

You are required to maintain physical-damage insurance (comprehensive and collision) on the financed vehicle with DriveWell Auto Finance listed as lienholder/loss payee. If your coverage lapses, we may obtain costly lender-placed insurance and add the cost to your balance.

If you purchased Guaranteed Asset Protection (GAP), it may cover the difference between your insurance settlement and your loan balance in the event of a total loss or theft, subject to the GAP contract terms. The vehicle title reflects our lien until the loan is paid in full, at which time we release the lien as required by law.

Credit Reporting and Servicemember Protections

We report your account status and payment history to one or more nationwide consumer reporting agencies. Late payments may be reflected in your credit report and may affect your credit score. If you believe we have reported inaccurate information, write to us at the address on this statement so we can investigate.

If you are a covered servicemember or dependent, you may be entitled to protections under the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA), including an interest-rate cap. Contact us with appropriate documentation to request relief.

Electronic Records and Signatures (E-SIGN) Consent

Scope. By enrolling in electronic delivery you consent to receive statements, disclosures, notices, tax forms, and other communications from DriveWell Auto Finance electronically, through the online account portal or by email, instead of on paper.

Hardware and software. To access and retain electronic records you need a current web browser, internet access, a valid email address, and the ability to view and save PDF documents. Standard message and data rates may apply.

Withdrawing consent. You may withdraw your consent to electronic delivery at any time and request paper copies by contacting us; a per-item fee may apply for paper copies as shown in the Schedule of Fees and Charges. Withdrawing consent will not affect the legal validity of records provided electronically before withdrawal.

Keeping records current. You agree to keep your email address and contact information current so that we can deliver electronic records to you. We are not responsible for non-delivery caused by an out-of-date address.

Retention. Electronic records remain available for at least the period required by law and generally for the most recent statement periods through online banking; you should download and retain copies for your records.

Dispute Resolution and Arbitration

Informal resolution first. Most concerns can be resolved quickly by contacting Member/Customer Service. You agree to give us a reasonable opportunity to resolve any dispute informally before initiating arbitration or litigation.

Agreement to arbitrate. If a dispute is not resolved informally, you or DriveWell Auto Finance may elect to resolve it through binding individual arbitration administered by a nationally recognized arbitration organization under its consumer rules, rather than in court, except for matters that qualify for small-claims court.

No class actions. To the extent permitted by law, disputes will be arbitrated on an individual basis only, and you and DriveWell Auto Finance waive any right to participate in a class action or class-wide arbitration. This provision does not apply where it is prohibited by applicable law.

Right to opt out. You may opt out of this arbitration provision by sending written notice within 60 days of opening your account. Opting out will not affect any other provision of your agreement or any other product or service.

Governing law. Except as otherwise provided, your agreement is governed by applicable federal law and the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to its conflict-of-laws principles.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. How is my interest calculated?

Interest accrues daily on your unpaid principal using a simple-interest method, so paying earlier in the month reduces the interest portion of your next payment.

Q. Can I change my due date?

You may request a due-date change once per year, subject to approval and account status.

Q. How do I get my title when I pay off the loan?

Once your loan is paid in full and funds clear, we release our lien and the title is processed according to your state's procedures, typically within several weeks.

Q. How do I get my year-end interest total?

Your total interest paid for the year appears in the Year-End Interest Summary on your statement and in the online account portal.

Q. What if I can't make a payment?

Contact us before your due date to discuss options such as a payment extension. Communicating early gives you the most options.
