Asset Allocation

Asset class	Market value	% of account
U.S. equity (CASC, VTSAX)	33,603.00	55.1%
International equity (VFWX)	6,089.50	10.0%
Fixed income (BND)	5,684.00	9.3%
Total	60,934.30	100.0%

A single holding, CASC, represents 41.2% of the account. Diversification guidelines commonly suggest limiting any single stock to well under 20% of a portfolio. Trimming a concentrated, appreciated position would realize a long-term capital gain.

Dividend and Income Detail by Holding (YTD 2026)

VTSAX — qualified dividends reinvested quarterly. VFWX — ordinary and qualified dividends, no foreign tax withheld in this account. BND — monthly income distributions, taxed as ordinary income. CASC — no dividend paid.

Reinvested dividends increase your cost basis in the reinvesting fund and are taxable in the year received even though no cash is distributed to you.

Year-to-date income figures are preliminary and will be finalized on your year-end Consolidated Form 1099.

Performance Summary

Beginning account value (Apr 1): 59,100.00. Ending value (Jun 30): 60,934.30. The change reflects market movement, dividends, and a $2,000.00 contribution received during the period.

Net unrealized gain across all holdings: 9,974.30. Unrealized gains are not taxable until the underlying securities are sold.

Performance figures are for this account only and do not include assets held elsewhere, such as your employer retirement plan.

Glossary

Market value — the current price multiplied by the number of shares held.

Cost basis — your investment in a security for tax purposes, used to determine gain or loss on sale.

Unrealized gain/loss — the difference between market value and cost basis for securities you still hold.

Concentration — the proportion of a portfolio held in a single security or asset; high concentration increases risk.

Reinvestment — using dividends or distributions to purchase additional shares automatically.
