Instructions for Recipient (Form 1099-R)

Box 1 shows the total amount you received. Box 2a shows the part generally taxable. If box 2b is checked, the payer did not determine the taxable amount and you must figure it yourself.

If you converted a traditional/SEP/SIMPLE IRA to a Roth IRA and made nondeductible contributions, the conversion is taxable only to the extent it exceeds your basis. Use Form 8606 to figure the nontaxable portion.

Box 7 Code 2 indicates an early distribution for which an exception to the 10% additional tax applies (a conversion).

Report the gross distribution on Form 1040 line 4a and the taxable amount you determine on line 4b.
