Important Information About This Statement

This statement is furnished for informational purposes. Your account is carried by the firm on a fully disclosed basis. Securities products are not bank deposits, are not FDIC insured, are not guaranteed by any bank, and may lose value.

Prices shown are obtained from sources believed to be reliable but are not guaranteed. The market value of a security is based on the closing price on the last business day of the period.

Please review this statement promptly and report any discrepancy. Oral communications regarding inaccuracies should be reconfirmed in writing to protect your rights.

SIPC Protection and Account Carrying

The firm is a member of the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC), which protects securities customers of its members up to $500,000 (including $250,000 for claims for cash). An explanatory brochure is available upon request or at the SIPC website.

SIPC protection does not protect against a decline in the market value of securities.

Cost Basis and Tax Reporting Notes

For covered securities, the firm reports adjusted cost basis to the IRS on Form 1099-B. For non-covered securities, basis is provided to you for informational purposes only and is not reported to the IRS.

Tax-exempt interest dividends from municipal bond funds are reported on Form 1099-DIV and are generally excluded from federal taxable income; they may be subject to state tax and may affect other calculations. Consult your tax advisor.

Glossary of Statement Terms

Market value — the value of a holding based on the closing price on the last business day of the period, multiplied by the quantity held. Cost basis — generally what you paid for a security, adjusted for items such as reinvested distributions and returns of capital.

Unrealized gain or loss — the difference between current market value and cost basis for securities you still hold; it becomes realized only when you sell. Realized gain or loss — the gain or loss on securities sold during the period.

Exempt-interest dividend — a distribution from a municipal bond fund that is generally exempt from federal income tax. Qualified dividend — a dividend eligible for the reduced long-term capital gains tax rates when holding-period requirements are met.

Distribution Options and Dividend Reinvestment

You may elect to have dividends and capital gain distributions paid in cash to your sweep account or automatically reinvested in additional shares. Reinvested amounts are still taxable in the year paid and increase your cost basis in the position.

Changes to your distribution election can be made through the member website or by contacting your representative. Elections in effect at the record date govern that distribution.

Business Continuity and Complaint Procedures

The firm maintains a business continuity plan designed to permit it to respond to significant business disruptions. Because the timing and impact of disasters and disruptions are unpredictable, the firm will have to be flexible in responding to actual events as they occur.

If you have a complaint, you may contact the firm in writing at the address shown on this statement. You may also contact FINRA or the SIPC for information about your rights as an investor.
