Instructions for Payee (Form 1099-K)

Vanta Mobility, Inc. — keep for your records

Instructions for Payee (Form 1099-K)

You received this form because you accepted payments through a payment card and/or a third party network (such as a rideshare platform, a marketplace, or a payment app). Box 1a shows the GROSS amount of those reportable payment transactions for the year.

Box 1a is GROSS, not net

Box 1a is the total dollar amount of payment transactions before any adjustments for fees, refunds, chargebacks, credits, or amounts you paid out. The amount you actually kept is almost always less than box 1a. Do not simply report box 1a as your taxable income. Instead, report your gross business receipts on Schedule C and then deduct your allowable business expenses (platform/service fees, commissions, refunds, mileage, supplies, and so on).

Personal payments

Form 1099-K should reflect payments for goods and services. If the gross amount includes money sent to you as a gift or reimbursement among friends and family, those amounts are not taxable income. Keep records that identify any non-business amounts so you can exclude them. If you cannot get a corrected form, report the full amount and then back out the non-business portion with an offsetting entry, keeping documentation.

Reconciling to your own records

Compare box 1a and the monthly boxes 5a-5l to your own payout records and bank deposits. The platform's gross figure includes amounts it withheld as its fee before paying you.

Multiple forms / shifting thresholds

Reporting thresholds for Form 1099-K changed several times. You may receive a 1099-K from one platform and not another even though both paid you, and a payment app may report amounts that overlap with a tip you also received elsewhere. Whether or not a 1099-K was issued, your income is taxable; conversely, receiving a 1099-K does not by itself make a personal transfer taxable.

Self-employment tax

Net profit from your activity is generally subject to self-employment tax (Schedule SE) in addition to income tax.

Gross fares (sum = 1099-K box 1a $31,200.00) less service & booking fees ($8,600.00) and tolls ($420.00) = net payout deposited ($22,180.00).

Service/booking fees and tolls are deductible business expenses on Schedule C; incentive pay is reported separately on Form 1099-NEC.

Vanta Mobility — 2025 Annual Tax Summary

Informational — not filed with the IRS

Vanta Mobility — 2025 Annual Tax Summary

This summary is provided to help you file. It is not filed with the IRS. Your Form 1099-K box 1a reflects GROSS ride payments processed on your behalf: 31,200.00.

Gross vs. your earnings

Gross ride payments (1099-K box 1a): $31,200.00

Less: Vanta service fee and booking fees withheld before payout: $8,600.00

Tolls and surcharges passed through: $420.00

Net deposited to your bank during the year: $22,180.00

These service fees, booking fees, and tolls are ordinary and necessary business expenses you may deduct on Schedule C. They are NOT subtracted on the 1099-K itself.

Mileage

On-trip miles recorded by the Vanta app in 2025: 14,000 miles. On-trip miles are miles with a passenger in the car. Many drivers also deduct additional business miles (en route to pickups, returning from drop-offs) that the app does not capture; keep your own mileage log to substantiate the total.

At the 2025 IRS standard mileage rate of $0.70/mile, 14,000 business miles would support a vehicle deduction of $9,800.00. You may use the standard mileage rate OR actual vehicle expenses, but not both.

Incentives

Quest, referral, and bonus incentive payments are reported separately to you on Form 1099-NEC, box 1: $1,400.00. Combine this with your 1099-K gross when reporting gross receipts on Schedule C.

Understanding 1099-K Thresholds

1099-K reporting thresholds — why amounts and forms keep changing

The federal threshold that requires third-party platforms to issue Form 1099-K changed repeatedly. For 2024 the reporting threshold was $5,000; for 2025 the IRS announced a $2,500 threshold; and separate legislation later in 2025 moved the threshold back toward the long-standing $20,000-and-200-transactions level. Because of these shifts, you may receive a 1099-K this year for amounts that would not have triggered a form in a prior year, and different platforms may have applied different thresholds.

What does NOT change: your obligation to report all of your business income, whether or not any platform sent you a 1099-K. Use your own records as the source of truth and treat each 1099-K as a cross-check of the gross processed by that platform.

If two platforms each report payments to you, do not assume the amounts overlap — confirm against your payout records before combining or netting them.

Driver Tax Center — Filing Checklist

Step 1 — Gather your forms

Collect this 1099-K (gross fares), your 1099-NEC (incentives), and any other income forms.

Step 2 — Report gross receipts

On Schedule C, report total gross receipts = 1099-K box 1a + 1099-NEC box 1.

Step 3 — Deduct expenses

Deduct Vanta service/booking fees, tolls, the standard mileage deduction (or actual vehicle costs), phone, and supplies.

Step 4 — Self-employment tax

Carry net profit to Schedule SE.

Step 5 — Estimated taxes

If you expect to owe $1,000 or more, make quarterly estimated payments to avoid an underpayment penalty.

Keep receipts, a mileage log, and bank records that support each figure.

Glossary & State Reporting

Glossary of Common Terms

Gross amount — the total of transactions before any fees, refunds, or adjustments.

Net earnings from self-employment — your business profit after expenses; the base for self-employment tax (after the 92.35% adjustment).

Schedule C — the form on which a sole proprietor reports business income and expenses.

Schedule SE — the form used to compute self-employment tax (Social Security and Medicare for the self-employed).

Standard mileage rate — a per-mile amount (70 cents for 2025) you may deduct for business use of your vehicle instead of actual expenses.

Section 179 — an election to expense the cost of qualifying business equipment in the year it is placed in service, instead of depreciating it over several years.

Estimated tax — quarterly payments of income and self-employment tax for income not subject to withholding.

Qualified business income (QBI) deduction — a deduction of up to 20% of qualified business income for eligible taxpayers.

State Reporting Notice

A copy of this information return may be furnished to the state revenue agency shown on the form. If state income tax was withheld, it is reported in the state boxes. Report your income on your state return as required.

Georgia residents: report your federal adjusted gross income and Georgia adjustments on Form 500. Georgia applies a flat individual income tax rate for the tax year. Self-employment income is included in Georgia taxable income.

Keep the state copy of this form with your records. If you moved during the year or earned income in more than one state, additional filing may be required.
