Account Disclosures & Terms

This statement reflects all transactions posted to the account during the statement period. Please examine it promptly. If you think your statement or any electronic transfer is wrong, contact the bank in writing within 60 days of our sending you the FIRST statement on which the error appeared. We may take up to 45 days to investigate.

In Case of Errors or Questions About Your Electronic Transfers: telephone or write us at the customer-service number and address shown above. Tell us your name and account number, describe the transfer you are unsure about, and explain why you believe it is an error or why you need more information. We will determine whether an error occurred within 10 business days.

Deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to the maximum amount allowed by law. The Funds Availability Policy governs when deposited funds are available for withdrawal; most checks are available the next business day, with exceptions for large or out-of-state items as disclosed in your account agreement.

Balancing Your Account: compare your records to this statement, list outstanding checks and deposits not yet posted, and reconcile the adjusted balance. Continuous overdraft or sustained negative balances may result in fees as disclosed in the fee schedule.
