Notice to Employee

Do you have to file? Refer to the Form 1040 instructions to determine if you are required to file a tax return. Even if you are not required to file, you may be eligible for a refund if box 2 shows an amount or if you are eligible for any credit.

Earned income credit (EIC). You may be able to take the EIC for 2025 if your adjusted gross income (AGI) is less than a certain amount and you meet other requirements. However, your earned income and AGI for the year must each be below the applicable limit. Any EIC that is more than your tax liability is refunded to you, but only if you file a tax return.

Clergy and religious workers, and certain other employees, see the Form 1040 instructions. Corrections: If your name, SSN, or amounts are incorrect, ask your employer for a corrected Form W-2c. Credit for excess taxes: If you had more than one employer in 2025 and your total social security wages were over the wage base, too much social security tax may have been withheld; you may claim the excess as a credit against your federal income tax. Keep Copy C of Form W-2 for at least 3 years after the due date for filing your income tax return.

Instructions for Employee (Box-by-Box)

- Box 1. Total taxable wages, tips, and other compensation, reduced by pre-tax elective deferrals (such as a 403(b)) and certain other pre-tax amounts.
- Box 2. Federal income tax withheld.
- Boxes 3 and 5. Box 3 shows the wages subject to social security tax (up to the annual wage base of $176,100 for 2025); box 5 shows the wages subject to Medicare tax (no wage limit).
- Boxes 4 and 6. Social security tax withheld (6.2% of box 3) and Medicare tax withheld (1.45% of box 5).
- Box 12. The code and amount report specific compensation and benefit items. Code E indicates elective deferrals under a section 403(b) salary-reduction agreement.
- Box 13. The Retirement plan box is checked when you were an active participant in an employer retirement plan.
- Box 14. Your employer uses this box to report other information, here New Jersey UI/WF/SWF and Family Leave Insurance (FLI) contributions withheld.
- Boxes 15–17. State, employer's state ID number, state wages, and state income tax withheld. Enter the state amounts on your state return.
- Boxes 18–20. Local wages and local income tax withheld, if any, and the locality name.

403(b) Retirement Plan Highlights

You participate in the employer 403(b) salary-reduction plan. For 2025 you deferred $5,000 (box 12, Code E), and the employer matched 3% of eligible pay. Elective deferrals reduce your federal taxable wages but not your social security and Medicare wages, and (in New Jersey) not your state wages. Annual deferral limits are set by the IRS. Investment earnings grow tax-deferred until distribution; early distributions may be subject to tax and a 10% additional tax.

Group Health & Welfare Benefits Summary

Your elections for 2025 included medical coverage under the employer group plan, with the employer paying the majority of the premium. Dental, vision, basic group-term life insurance, and short-term disability were employer-provided. If you enrolled in a Health FSA or HSA, those amounts would appear in box 10 or box 12 (Code W) respectively; none are reported for 2025. Cost of employer-sponsored coverage, when reported, appears in box 12 with Code DD for information only and is not taxable.

Paid Time Off and Leave Summary

Leave type	Accrued 2025	Used 2025	Balance carried
Paid Time Off (PTO)	176.0 hrs	152.5 hrs	23.5 hrs
Sick leave (NJ Earned Sick Leave)	40.0 hrs	18.0 hrs	22.0 hrs
Holiday	88.0 hrs	88.0 hrs	0.0 hrs

Leave balances are informational and governed by the employee handbook and New Jersey law.

Reconciling Your W-2 to Your Pay Records

Your year-to-date totals on your final pay statement of the year correspond to the amounts reported on this Form W-2. If your own records do not match this statement, contact the Payroll Department before filing your return so any needed correction (Form W-2c) can be issued.

Updating Your Withholding (Form W-4 and NJ-W4)

If you received a large refund or owed a balance last year, consider updating your withholding. Federal withholding is based on the Form W-4 you file with the employer; New Jersey withholding is based on the Form NJ-W4. Life events such as marriage, a new child, or a change in dependents can change the right amount to withhold. You can use the IRS Tax Withholding Estimator to check your federal withholding and submit a new W-4 at any time.

Claiming the correct number of dependents on your return is separate from your W-4 elections. Make sure each dependent you claim meets the IRS dependency rules and that the name and social security number you report match the dependent's social security card.

New Jersey Employee Rights and Required Notices

New Jersey Earned Sick Leave. Most New Jersey employees accrue up to 40 hours of earned sick leave per benefit year, at a rate of one hour for every 30 hours worked, usable for your own or a family member's health needs, certain school events, and circumstances related to domestic or sexual violence.

Family Leave Insurance (FLI). New Jersey FLI provides partial wage replacement to bond with a new child or care for a seriously ill family member. Your FLI contributions are shown in box 14. Claims are filed with the New Jersey Division of Temporary Disability and Family Leave Insurance.

Temporary Disability Insurance (TDI). New Jersey TDI provides partial wage replacement when you cannot work due to your own non-work-related illness or injury, including pregnancy. The employee contribution rate for 2025 is 0.00%.

Minimum Wage. New Jersey's minimum wage is adjusted annually. Your pay is at or above the applicable minimum wage for all hours worked.

Wage Payment and Wage Theft. You have the right to be paid all wages due on regular paydays and to receive a statement of deductions. New Jersey's Wage Theft Act provides remedies for unpaid wages.

Unemployment Insurance. If you become unemployed through no fault of your own, you may be eligible for unemployment benefits. Your UI/WF/SWF contributions are shown in box 14.

SAFE Act / Leave for Victims. Eligible employees may take unpaid leave under the New Jersey SAFE Act for circumstances related to domestic or sexual violence affecting them or a family member.

Equal Employment Opportunity. The employer provides equal employment opportunity without regard to any characteristic protected by federal, New Jersey, or local law, and maintains a workplace free of unlawful discrimination and harassment.

403(b) Plan — Summary Plan Description (Excerpt)

Eligibility. Employees are generally eligible to make salary-reduction contributions to the 403(b) plan upon hire. Eligibility for employer matching contributions and the matching formula are described in the full plan document.

Your contributions. You may contribute a percentage of eligible pay up to the annual IRS elective-deferral limit. Contributions are made by payroll reduction on a pre-tax basis (or Roth, if offered) and are always 100% vested.

Employer contributions and vesting. The employer matches a portion of your contributions according to the plan's formula. Employer contributions vest according to the plan's vesting schedule; once vested, they are yours even if you leave employment.

Investments. You direct the investment of your account among the plan's available funds. You may change your investment elections and rebalance subject to the plan's and the funds' rules. Investment returns are not guaranteed.

Distributions. Distributions are generally available at separation from service, age 59½, disability, or financial hardship as permitted by the plan. Distributions are taxed as ordinary income; amounts taken before age 59½ may incur a 10% additional tax unless an exception applies.

Loans and hardship. If permitted, plan loans and hardship withdrawals have specific limits and requirements. A loan that is not repaid as required may be treated as a taxable distribution.

Required minimum distributions. After you reach the age set by law (or separate from service, if later), you must begin taking required minimum distributions. Failure to do so may result in an excise tax.

Beneficiaries. Designate and keep current your beneficiary; it controls who receives your account at death, generally regardless of your will. Spousal consent rules may apply.

Group Health Plan — Summary of Benefits and Coverage (Key Terms)

This is a summary only. The plan document and the official Summary of Benefits and Coverage govern your benefits. Coverage, networks, and cost-sharing may change at renewal. Contact Human Resources or the plan administrator for full details, provider directories, and the machine-readable files required under federal transparency rules.

Pay Practices (Employee Handbook Excerpt)

Pay schedule. Employees are paid semimonthly, on the 5th and 20th (or the preceding business day when those fall on a weekend or holiday). Pay covers the prior semimonthly work period.

Shift differentials. Eligible employees receive a night-shift differential and a weekend differential in addition to base pay, as shown on your earnings statement. Differentials are included in gross wages and are fully taxable.

Overtime. Non-exempt employees are paid overtime at one-and-one-half times the regular rate for hours worked over 40 in a workweek, in accordance with federal and New Jersey law.

Timekeeping. Non-exempt employees must accurately record all time worked. Falsification of time records is grounds for discipline.

Deductions. Only deductions required by law or authorized by you in writing (such as benefit premiums and retirement contributions) are taken from your pay. Your earnings statement itemizes all deductions.

Final pay. Upon separation, final wages are paid no later than the next regular payday, including any payout required by policy or law.

Direct deposit. Pay is delivered by direct deposit to the account(s) you designate. Notify Payroll promptly of any change to your banking information to avoid delays.

Tax Filing Resources for Employees — FAQ

Q. When will I receive my W-2?

Employers must furnish Form W-2 by January 31. If you consented to electronic delivery, it is available online; otherwise it is mailed to your address of record.

Q. What if my W-2 is wrong?

Contact Payroll. If a correction is needed, the employer will issue a corrected Form W-2c. Do not file your return using figures you know to be incorrect.

Q. How do I get a duplicate W-2?

Current and prior-year W-2s are available through the employee self-service portal.

Q. How do I update my address with Payroll?

Update your address in the employee self-service portal or notify the Payroll Department in writing.

Q. How do I check my refund?

Use the IRS 'Where's My Refund?' tool or the IRS2Go app about 24 hours after e-filing, or four weeks after mailing a paper return.

Q. Where can I get free filing help?

IRS Free File, the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program, and Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) offer free assistance to eligible taxpayers.

Payroll and Wage-Statement Notices

About this statement. This earnings statement details your gross pay, pre-tax and post-tax deductions, taxes withheld, and net pay for the pay period shown, along with year-to-date totals. Retain it for your records and for reconciling your annual Form W-2.

Federal income tax withholding. Federal income tax is withheld based on the Form W-4 you filed and the IRS percentage-method tables. Withholding is an estimate of your annual tax; your actual liability is determined when you file your federal return. Review your withholding if your circumstances change.

Social Security and Medicare. Social Security tax is withheld at 6.2% of wages up to the annual wage base; Medicare tax is withheld at 1.45% of all wages, plus an Additional Medicare Tax of 0.9% on wages above the applicable threshold. These are mandatory FICA contributions.

Pre-tax deductions. Elective retirement contributions and certain benefit premiums are itemized separately on your statement. Your gross pay, each deduction, the taxes withheld, and your net pay are shown with year-to-date totals.

Direct deposit. Net pay is deposited to the account(s) you designated. Allow one pay cycle for changes to take effect. Notify Payroll promptly of any change to your banking information.

Year-end Form W-2. Your wages and withholding for the calendar year are reported to you and to taxing authorities on Form W-2 in January. Year-to-date figures on your final pay statement of the year should reconcile to your W-2, subject to non-cash and imputed items.

Questions about your pay. Direct questions to the Ironbound Regional Medical Center Payroll Department. Report any discrepancy promptly so it can be corrected in a timely manner.

Electronic Records and Signatures (E-SIGN) Consent

Scope. By enrolling in electronic delivery you consent to receive statements, disclosures, notices, tax forms, and other communications from Ironbound Regional Medical Center electronically, through the employee self-service portal or by email, instead of on paper.

Hardware and software. To access and retain electronic records you need a current web browser, internet access, a valid email address, and the ability to view and save PDF documents. Standard message and data rates may apply.

Withdrawing consent. You may withdraw your consent to electronic delivery at any time and request paper copies by contacting us; a per-item fee may apply for paper copies as shown in the Schedule of Fees and Charges. Withdrawing consent will not affect the legal validity of records provided electronically before withdrawal.

Keeping records current. You agree to keep your email address and contact information current so that we can deliver electronic records to you. We are not responsible for non-delivery caused by an out-of-date address.

Retention. Electronic records remain available for at least the period required by law and generally for the most recent statement periods through online banking; you should download and retain copies for your records.

Protecting Your Identity at Tax Time

Tax-related identity theft occurs when someone uses your stolen personal information, including your social security number, to file a tax return claiming a fraudulent refund. To reduce your risk, file early, safeguard your social security number, and be alert to phishing emails and phone scams. The IRS does not initiate contact with taxpayers by email, text, or social media to request personal or financial information.

You may request an Identity Protection PIN (IP PIN) from the IRS, a six-digit number that prevents someone else from filing a return with your social security number. If you believe you are a victim of tax-related identity theft, respond immediately to any IRS notice and consider filing Form 14039, Identity Theft Affidavit.

Dependent-related identity issues can also arise when another person claims your child. Keep documentation that shows where your child lived during the year (such as school, medical, or childcare records). If the IRS contacts you because more than one return claimed the same dependent, follow the instructions in the notice and provide the requested documentation by the deadline.

Employee Privacy Notice

The employer collects and maintains personal information necessary to administer payroll and benefits, including your name, address, social security number, compensation, tax elections, and benefit enrollments. This information is used to pay you, withhold and remit taxes, administer benefits, and comply with legal obligations.

We share your information with taxing authorities, benefit providers and plan administrators, and service providers that help us run payroll and benefits, subject to confidentiality obligations. We maintain administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect your information. Contact Human Resources to review or update your personal information.

Affordable Care Act — Form 1095-C and Health Coverage

Because the employer offers group health coverage, you will receive Form 1095-C, which reports the coverage offered to you each month and whether you enrolled. You generally do not need to attach Form 1095-C to your return, but keep it with your tax records. The cost of employer-sponsored coverage, when reported on your W-2 with code DD, is informational only and is not taxable.

If you, your spouse, or a dependent obtained coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace for any month, you may receive Form 1095-A and may need to reconcile any advance premium tax credit on your return. Most employees with employer coverage all year are not affected.

New Jersey State Filing Notes

New Jersey residents generally file Form NJ-1040. Report the New Jersey wages shown in box 16 and the New Jersey income tax withheld shown in box 17. See the NJ-1040 instructions for filing requirements and any credits for which you may qualify.

Other Employment Notices

Wage Garnishments and Income-Withholding Orders. If the employer receives a court or agency order to withhold from your pay (for example, for child support or a tax levy), we are required by law to comply and to remit the withheld amounts. Such withholdings, if any, appear as deductions on your earnings statement.

COBRA and Continuation Coverage. If your group health coverage ends because of a qualifying event such as a reduction in hours or separation from employment, you may be eligible to continue coverage at your own cost under COBRA or New Jersey continuation law for a limited period.

Employee Assistance Program (EAP). Confidential support resources are available to you and your household members for personal, family, financial, and work-related concerns. Contact Human Resources for the current EAP provider and access information.

Recordkeeping Guidance

Keep Copy C of this Form W-2 and your year-end pay statement for at least three years after the due date of the related income tax return; longer retention is advisable if you have unusual items. Retain documentation supporting any dependents you claim, including records establishing where each dependent lived during the year, along with childcare receipts and student-loan interest statements, in case the IRS requests substantiation.

If you file electronically, save a PDF copy of your accepted return and the confirmation. Store tax documents securely, and shred paper documents containing your social security number when you no longer need them.

Accessing Prior Statements

Current and prior-year W-2s and pay statements are available through the employee self-service portal for the periods supported by your employer's recordkeeping. You may download and print copies at any time. If you separate from employment, retain copies for your records, as portal access may end after your final pay date.
