Cardmember Agreement (Excerpt)

1. Using your account

You may use your account to make purchases and, where permitted, balance transfers and cash advances. You promise to pay us for all amounts owing on your account, including purchases, fees, and interest charges. You are responsible for all use of your account by anyone you authorize.

2. Your credit line

We assign a credit line to your account and may adjust it at our discretion. You agree not to exceed your credit line. If you do, you remain responsible for the full amount owed, and we may charge applicable fees as disclosed.

3. Promise to pay; minimum payment

Each billing cycle you must pay at least the minimum payment by the due date. The minimum payment equals the greater of $35 or 2% of the new balance, plus any past-due amount and any amount over your credit line.

4. How we calculate interest

We figure interest charges using the daily balance method (including new transactions). We apply a daily periodic rate to the balance each day, then sum the daily interest for the cycle. There is no grace period on cash advances or once you carry a balance.

5. How we apply payments

We apply the minimum payment first to lower-APR balances. Amounts paid above the minimum are applied to the highest-APR balances first, as required by law.

6. Default

You will be in default if you fail to make a required payment when due, exceed your credit line, or file for bankruptcy. Upon default we may, subject to applicable law, increase your APR to the Penalty APR and require immediate payment of your balance.

7. Variable rates

Variable APRs are based on the Prime Rate published in a national financial newspaper plus a margin. If the Prime Rate changes, your variable APRs will change accordingly on the first day of the billing cycle that begins in the same month.

8. Changes to your agreement

We may change the terms of this agreement, including rates and fees, subject to applicable law and any required advance notice. You may have the right to reject certain changes by notifying us as described in the change notice.

9. Closing your account

You or we may close your account at any time. If your account is closed, you must still repay the full balance under the terms of this agreement.

10. Governing law

This agreement is governed by federal law and the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict-of-laws principles.

Your rights if you are dissatisfied with a purchase

If you are dissatisfied with goods or services purchased with your card, you may have the right not to pay the remaining amount due, subject to conditions including that you first attempt in good faith to resolve the dispute with the merchant.

How We Calculate Interest — Detailed Example

Suppose your average daily balance for a 30-day cycle is \$4,600 and your purchase APR is 24.99%. The daily periodic rate is $24.99\% \div 365 = 0.06846\%$. The interest for the cycle is $\$4,600 \times 0.06846\% \times 30 \text{ days} =$ approximately \$94.47. Paying your statement balance in full by the due date avoids interest on new purchases in the following cycle.

Arbitration Agreement

Agreement to arbitrate

You and we agree that either party may elect to resolve any claim (except certain small-claims matters) by binding individual arbitration. Arbitration replaces the right to litigate a claim in court or to have a jury trial.

Claims covered

'Claim' means any dispute relating to your account, this agreement, your application, or your relationship with us, whether based on contract, statute, regulation, tort, or otherwise, and whether arising before, during, or after the account is closed.

A party electing arbitration must notify the other in writing. Arbitration will be administered by a nationally recognized arbitration organization under its applicable rules in effect when the claim is filed.

Costs of arbitration

We will pay or reimburse filing and administrative fees to the extent required by the administrator's rules or applicable law. Each party is otherwise responsible for its own attorneys' fees unless the law or the arbitrator provides otherwise.

You may reject this arbitration agreement by sending us written notice within 45 days after your account is opened. Your notice must include your name, account number, and a statement that you reject the arbitration agreement. Rejection will not affect any other term.

A: Your payment due date is at least 25 days after the close of each billing cycle and is shown on each statement. We must receive your payment by 5:00 p.m. on the due date.

Q: How can I avoid interest?

A: Pay your statement balance in full by the due date each month to avoid interest on new purchases. Interest still applies to cash advances and balance transfers from the transaction date.

Q: How do I update my autopay amount?

A: Log in to online banking or call Cardholder Services. Changes made at least three business days before the next draft date will apply to that draft.

Q: Does this card have an annual fee?

A: No. The Harbor Point Visa Cash Back card has no annual fee.

Q: How do I dispute a charge?

A: See the 'Your Billing Rights' section of this statement for the process and time limits for disputing a charge.

Year-to-Date Fees & Interest Summary

2025 INTEREST & FEES
Total interest charged — purchases	$1,182.74
Total interest charged — cash advances	$0.00
Total fees charged	$0.00
Total interest and fees (2025)	$1,182.74
Effective interest rate on average balance	24.99%

Two-Year Balance Trend

Your balance has trended downward over the past year as scheduled autopayments exceed new purchases. The table below summarizes quarter-end balances.

Quarter end	Balance
-------------	---------

Q4 2024	$5,012.00
Q1 2025	4,790.55
Q2 2025	4,812.06
Q3 2025	4,816.85
Q4 2025	4,429.90

Continuing the current autopay of $185.00 per month, and assuming no new purchases, the present balance would be repaid in approximately 28 months, with total additional interest of roughly $1,180. Increasing your monthly payment would reduce both the payoff time and the total interest paid.

Furnishing negative information

We have furnished, and may continue to furnish, information regarding the related account that was settled for less than the full balance.

Account standing

You must be an account holder in good standing to earn and redeem rewards. Rewards may be suspended if your account is past due.

Forfeiture on closure

If your account is closed by you or by us, unredeemed rewards are forfeited as of the closure date unless otherwise required by law.

No cash value until redeemed

Rewards have no cash value until redeemed and are not your property until credited to your account or deposit account.

Tax treatment

Cash back earned as a rebate on purchases is generally not taxable income; consult a tax advisor regarding your circumstances.

Account Security & Fraud Protection

Zero-liability protection

Under Visa's Zero Liability policy and federal law, you are not responsible for unauthorized transactions made with your card or account number when you report them promptly. This protection does not apply to certain commercial or PIN-based transactions outside the policy.

Fraud monitoring

We monitor account activity for unusual or potentially fraudulent patterns and may place a temporary hold or contact you to verify transactions. Keep your contact information current so we can reach you.

Protecting your information

Never share your card number, PIN, or online credentials. We will never ask for your full password or PIN by email or text. Beware of phishing messages that imitate the bank.

If you suspect fraud

Call the number on the back of your card immediately. We will block the account, investigate, and issue a replacement card. You are not liable for confirmed unauthorized charges reported promptly.

Card controls

Use online and mobile banking to lock or unlock your card, set transaction alerts, and restrict certain transaction types for added control.

Data breach response

If your card may have been exposed in a merchant data incident, we may proactively reissue your card; continue monitoring your statements and report anything unfamiliar.

Disputes & Chargebacks — Detailed Process

Step 1 — Contact the merchant

For most purchase disputes, first attempt to resolve the issue directly with the merchant, who may issue a refund or correct the charge more quickly than a formal dispute.

Step 2 — File a dispute with us

If the merchant does not resolve it, submit a written dispute within 60 days of the statement on which the charge appeared, including the amount, merchant, date, and reason. You may also initiate a dispute through online banking.

Step 3 — Provisional credit

Where required, we may issue a provisional credit while we investigate. You are not required to pay the disputed amount during the investigation, but you must pay the rest of your balance.

Step 4 — Investigation

We investigate and may request supporting documentation. We will acknowledge your dispute within 30 days and resolve it within the time required by law, generally within two billing cycles.

Step 5 — Resolution

If the dispute is resolved in your favor, the provisional credit becomes permanent. If not, we will explain the basis and the disputed amount, plus any accrued interest, will be your responsibility.

Billing-error vs. quality dispute

Billing errors (unauthorized charges, wrong amounts, math errors) follow the Fair Credit Billing Act process; disputes about the quality of goods or services follow separate rules and conditions, including a good-faith attempt to resolve with the merchant.

Credit Education & Resources

Paying more than the minimum

Paying only the minimum maximizes the interest you pay and extends your payoff. Paying more each month — or the full balance — reduces interest and builds toward becoming debt-free faster.

Credit utilization

Your utilization (balance divided by credit limit) is a significant factor in credit scores. Lower utilization generally supports a higher score; high utilization can lower it.

On-time payments

Payment history is the most important scoring factor. Setting up autopay for at least the minimum helps avoid missed payments and late fees.

Free credit reports

You are entitled to free credit reports from the nationwide consumer reporting agencies through the federally authorized website. Review them regularly for accuracy.

Building credit

Responsible use over time — low utilization, on-time payments, and a mix of account types — supports a stronger credit profile.

If you are struggling

If you are having difficulty making payments, contact us to discuss options. Nonprofit credit-counseling agencies can also help you build a budget and a repayment plan.
