Privacy Notice and Account Terms

FACTS — What does Tidewater National Bank, N.A. do with your personal information?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include your Social Security number and income, account balances and transaction history, and credit history.

How does the bank protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. We restrict access to your information to those employees who need it to do their job.

How does the bank collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you open an account or make deposits or withdrawals from your account, pay your bills or apply for a loan, or use your debit card. We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Funds availability policy

Our policy is to make funds from your electronic direct deposits available on the day we receive the deposit. Funds from check deposits may be delayed for a longer period under certain circumstances. The first $275 from a deposit of checks will generally be available on the first business day.

Electronic banking terms

By enrolling in online and mobile banking you agree to receive statements and disclosures electronically. You may withdraw consent at any time. Recurring transfers and bill payments will be processed on the scheduled date or the next business day if the scheduled date is not a business day.

Substitute checks and your rights

A substitute check is a paper reproduction of an original check. In certain cases, federal law provides a special procedure that allows you to request a refund for losses you incur if a substitute check is posted to your account. The amount of your refund is limited under applicable law.

Account Disclosures and Information

Interest information

Premier Interest Checking earns interest at a variable annual percentage yield (APY). Interest is compounded daily and credited monthly. The APY for this statement period averaged 0.05%. Interest credited during the period, if any, is included in the deposits shown above.

In case of errors or questions about your electronic transfers

Telephone us or write us at the address shown above as soon as you can if you think your statement or receipt is wrong or if you need more information about a transfer listed on the statement. We must hear from you no later than 60 days after we sent you the FIRST statement on which the problem or error appeared. (1) Tell us your name and account number. (2) Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe it is an error or why you need more information. (3) Tell us the dollar amount of the suspected error. We will investigate your complaint and will correct any error promptly.

How to balance your account

1. List any deposits or credits that do not yet appear on this statement. 2. List any checks, withdrawals, or other debits that have not yet cleared. 3. Enter the ending balance shown on this statement. 4. Add the deposits from step 1. 5. Subtract the outstanding debits from step 2. The result should equal the balance in your checkbook register.

Overdraft coverage

Without your consent, we will not authorize and pay overdrafts on everyday debit card or ATM transactions. We may still authorize and pay overdrafts for checks and recurring electronic (ACH) payments at our discretion. If we do, the overdraft item fee shown in the fee schedule may apply. You may opt in to debit-card overdraft coverage at any time by contacting us.

Binding arbitration and class-action waiver

Any dispute arising out of or relating to your account or this agreement will, at the election of either party, be resolved by binding arbitration administered by a nationally recognized arbitration organization, rather than in court, except that either party may bring an individual claim in small-claims court. You and the bank waive any right to participate in a class action. You may reject this arbitration provision by notifying us in writing within 45 days of opening your account.
