5. How Payments Are Applied

Each scheduled monthly payment is applied to the equal-payment plan balance. Because the promotional rate is 0%, no portion of any payment is applied to interest while the plan remains in good standing. Payments received above the scheduled amount are applied to reduce the outstanding principal and shorten the remaining term; they do not change the scheduled monthly payment due.

Payment options

Option	Details

6. Equal Payment Plan Agreement (Reference Copy)

6.1 Parties & plan. This Equal Payment Plan ('Plan') is between you (the account holder) and Bryant Park Bank, N.A. ('we','us'), the lender for purchases financed through Sweetwater Financial. The Plan finances the goods identified in Section 1.

6.2 Promise to pay. You promise to pay the Amount Financed in the scheduled monthly payments shown in Section 4 until the balance is paid in full.

6.3 Promotional APR. The annual percentage rate for the Plan is 0.00% for the full Plan term, provided the Plan remains in good standing. No interest accrues during the promotional term under these conditions.

6.4 Payments. Payments are due on the 14th of each month. We apply each payment first to any fees, then to the Plan principal. Scheduled payments do not change if you pay extra in a given month.

6.5 Prepayment. You may prepay all or part of the balance at any time without penalty. Prepayment reduces the principal and may shorten the term but does not reduce the scheduled monthly payment.

6.6 Late payment. If a scheduled payment is not received by its due date, a late fee may be assessed as permitted by law. If a payment is more than 60 days past due, we may terminate the promotional rate and apply the standard purchase APR to the remaining balance from the date of default.

6.7 Default. You are in default if you fail to make a payment when due, file for bankruptcy, or breach this agreement. On default, the entire remaining balance may become due, subject to applicable law and any required notice.

6.8 Security. The Plan is unsecured. We do not retain a security interest in the financed goods unless separately disclosed and agreed.

6.9 Autopay authorization. If enrolled in automatic payments, you authorize us to initiate ACH debits from your designated deposit account for the scheduled payment amount on each due date until the Plan is paid or you cancel autopay.

6.10 Returned payments. If a payment is returned unpaid, a returned-payment fee may apply as permitted by law, and autopay may be suspended.

6.11 Credit reporting. We may report information about your account to consumer reporting agencies. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults may be reflected in your credit report.

6.12 Changes & assignment. We may assign this agreement. We will provide notice of any change in terms as required by law. You may not assign your obligations without our consent.

6.13 Communications. You agree we may contact you about your account at the phone numbers, mailing addresses, and email addresses you provide, using the methods permitted by law.

6.14 Governing law. This agreement is governed by federal law and, to the extent applicable, the laws of the State of Utah, where the lender's account operations are located.

6.15 Billing inquiries. Direct billing inquiries to the address in Section 7. See Section 7 for your billing-rights summary.

6.16 How the plan works. When you financed the goods, we paid the merchant the purchase price and you agreed to repay us the Amount Financed in the scheduled monthly payments.

Each statement shows your payment activity and remaining balance.

6.17 Your acceptance. Using the Plan, making a payment, or failing to reject the Plan within the time stated in the disclosures provided at purchase means you accept the terms of this agreement.

6.18 Authorization to verify. You authorize us to verify the information you provided and to obtain credit reports and other information about you in connection with opening, maintaining, reviewing, and collecting the Plan.

6.19 Keeping your information current. You agree to notify us promptly of any change to your name, mailing address, email address, or telephone number. We may rely on the most recent information you provided.

6.20 No waiver. We may delay enforcing our rights under this agreement without losing them. Our failure to exercise any right is not a waiver of that right or any other right.

6.21 Set-off. To the extent permitted by law, we may apply funds you owe us against amounts past due, subject to any notice required by law.

6.22 Costs of collection. If your account is referred for collection after default, you agree to pay our reasonable collection costs, including court costs and attorneys' fees, to the extent permitted by applicable law.

6.23 Telephone communications. You agree that we and our service providers may monitor and record telephone calls regarding your account for quality and training purposes, and may contact you at any number you provide, including by automated dialing systems and prerecorded messages where permitted.

6.24 Notices to you. We may provide notices to you at your mailing or email address on file. A notice mailed to your address of record is effective when sent.

6.25 Severability & headings. If any provision of this agreement is found unenforceable, the remaining provisions remain in effect. Section headings are for convenience only and do not affect interpretation.

6.26 Limitation of liability. To the extent permitted by law, we are not liable for indirect, special, or consequential damages arising from the Plan.

6.27 Entire agreement. This reference copy, together with the promotional plan disclosures provided at the time of purchase, constitutes the agreement for the Plan and supersedes prior understandings regarding it.

7. Your Billing Rights and Contact Information

What to do if you find a mistake on your statement. If you think there is an error on your statement, write to us at Bryant Park Bank, P.O. Box 965012, Orlando, FL 32896. In your letter, give us the following information: your name and account number; the dollar amount of the suspected error; and a description of why you believe it is an error. You must contact us within 60 days after the error appeared on your statement.

What will happen after we receive your letter. We must acknowledge your letter and, while we investigate, we cannot try to collect the disputed amount or report you as delinquent on that amount. We will either correct the error or explain why we believe the statement is correct.

This statement reflects activity for the named plan only. Retain it with your records. The remaining balance shown is the amount carried into the next plan year and is not currently due in full.

8. Rates and Fees Schedule

The promotional plan APR is 0.00% for the plan term. The rates and fees below apply to the account generally and to the balance if the promotional rate is terminated for non-payment, as described in Section 6.6.

Rate or fee	Amount
Promotional plan APR	0.00% for the 36-month plan term
Standard purchase APR (if promo terminated)	29.99% variable (Prime + 21.74%)
Minimum interest charge (if any applies)	$2.00
Late payment fee	Up to $40
Returned payment fee	Up to $30
Annual fee	$0
Statement copy fee	$0 (electronic)

How we calculate variable rates (if applicable). A variable APR equals the Prime Rate published in a national business newspaper on the last business day of the month plus a margin. A change in the Prime Rate takes effect on the first day of the next billing cycle. Variable rates apply only if the promotional rate is terminated; while the Plan is in good standing the rate remains 0.00%.

9. Arbitration Agreement

9.1. Most disputes can be resolved by contacting customer service. This section governs how disputes are resolved if they cannot be.

9.2. Agreement to arbitrate. You and we agree that either party may elect to resolve any claim arising from or relating to this account or this agreement by binding individual arbitration, except as stated below. Arbitration replaces the right to litigate a claim in court and to have a jury trial.

9.3. Claims covered. 'Claim' means any dispute, whether based in contract, tort, statute, or otherwise, including the validity and scope of this arbitration section, except an individual action in small-claims court and any claim to collect a debt that one party brings individually.

9.4. Class-action waiver. Claims must be brought in the parties' individual capacities and not as a plaintiff or class member in any purported class or representative proceeding. The arbitrator may not consolidate more than one person's claims.

9.5. Process. Arbitration will be administered by a nationally recognized arbitration administrator under its consumer rules in effect when the claim is filed. The arbitration will take place in the federal judicial district where you live unless the parties agree otherwise.

9.6. Costs. We will pay filing, administration, and arbitrator fees to the extent required by the administrator's rules or applicable law. Each party otherwise bears its own attorneys' fees and costs unless a statute or the arbitrator provides otherwise.

9.7. Right to reject. You may reject this arbitration section by sending written notice within 45 days after the account is opened to the inquiries address in Section 7, stating your name, account number, and intent to reject arbitration. Rejecting arbitration will not affect any other provision of this agreement.

9.8. Survival. This arbitration section survives termination of the account, payment in full of the balance, and any bankruptcy to the extent permitted by law. If any portion of this section is held invalid, the remainder remains in effect, except that the class-action waiver is not severable.

9.9. Arbitrator's authority. The arbitrator has the authority to decide the dispute and to award any relief that would be available in an individual court action, subject to the limitations in this section. The arbitrator's decision is final and binding, subject to limited court review under the Federal Arbitration Act.

9.10. No jury trial. By agreeing to arbitration, you and we waive the right to a trial by jury for any claim subject to arbitration. Pre-arbitration discovery is generally more limited than in court.

9.11. Notice of dispute. Before beginning arbitration, the party raising a claim must send the other party a written notice of dispute describing the claim and the relief sought, allowing 30 days for good-faith resolution.

9.12. Governing rules. This arbitration section is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act. It does not prevent either party from notifying the other of a dispute or from seeking relief in small-claims court for claims within that court's jurisdiction.

10. State Law Notices

California. An applicant, if married, may apply for a separate account.

New York. New York residents may contact the New York State Department of Financial Services for a comparative listing of credit-card rates, fees, and grace periods at the number published by that department.

Ohio. The Ohio laws against discrimination require that all creditors make credit equally available to all creditworthy customers, and that credit-reporting agencies maintain separate credit histories on each individual upon request.

Married Wisconsin residents. No provision of a marital property agreement, a unilateral statement, or a court decree adversely affects our interest unless, before the credit is granted, we are furnished with a copy of the agreement, statement, or decree, or have actual knowledge of the adverse provision.

Maryland / Utah. To the extent permitted by law, the parties agree that this agreement is governed by federal law and, where applicable, the laws of the lender's home state.

Vermont. Vermont residents: by accepting this account you authorize us to obtain consumer reports in connection with the account and any update, renewal, extension, or collection of the account.

Iowa & Kansas. NOTICE TO CONSUMER: do not sign this agreement before you read it. You are entitled to a copy of this agreement. You may prepay the unpaid balance at any time without penalty.

Missouri. Oral agreements or commitments to lend money, extend credit, or forbear from enforcing repayment of a debt, including promises to extend or renew such debt, are not enforceable; the written agreement controls.

Nebraska. A credit agreement must be in writing to be enforceable under Nebraska law. To protect you and us from any misunderstanding, any agreement we reach is contained in this written document.

New Jersey. Because certain provisions of this agreement are subject to applicable law, they may be void, unenforceable, or inapplicable in some jurisdictions; none of these provisions is void, unenforceable, or inapplicable within New Jersey.

West Virginia. This account is not subject to certain West Virginia consumer-credit provisions to the extent it is governed by the laws referenced in Section 6; consult the lender for details applicable to your residence.

Utah / governing-law residents. This agreement and your account are governed by federal law and, where applicable, the laws of the state in which the lender's account operations are located, regardless of where you reside.

Notice to all applicants. We may obtain and use information about your account experience with us and with others, and information from consumer reporting agencies, in connection with your account.

11. Privacy Notice

FACTS — What does Bryant Park Bank do with your personal information?

Why? Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information.

What? The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include your Social Security number and income, account balances and payment history, and credit history and credit scores.

How? All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information, the reasons Bryant Park Bank chooses to share, and whether you can limit this sharing.

Everyday business purposes To process your transactions, maintain your account, respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus — we share, and you cannot limit this sharing.

Marketing purposes To offer our products and services to you — we share, and you can limit this sharing by contacting us.

Joint marketing & affiliates For our affiliates' everyday business purposes and joint marketing with other financial companies — we may share as permitted; certain sharing can be limited as described in the full notice.

Nonaffiliates We do not share with nonaffiliates so they can market to you, except as permitted by law.

To limit our sharing Call the customer-service number in Section 7 or write to the inquiries address. If you are a new customer, we can begin sharing your information 30 days from the date we sent this notice; you can contact us at any time to limit our sharing.

13. Summary of Plan Terms

This summary highlights key features of your equal-payment plan. It does not replace the full terms in the preceding sections; if there is any conflict, the detailed sections and the disclosures provided at purchase control.

Your plan finances a single purchase of recording equipment in the amount shown in Section 1. You repay that amount in 36 equal monthly payments at a promotional annual percentage rate of 0.00%.

Because the promotional rate is 0.00%, no interest is charged while the plan remains in good standing. Each payment reduces the outstanding principal, as shown in the amortization schedule in Section 4.

Payments are due on the 14th of each month. You are enrolled in automatic payment, so the scheduled amount is drafted from your linked deposit account each month.

You may pay more than the scheduled amount, or pay the balance in full, at any time without penalty. Extra payments reduce your principal and can shorten the remaining term.

If a scheduled payment is missed and becomes more than 60 days past due, the promotional rate may be terminated and the standard purchase rate may apply to the remaining balance going forward.

Your remaining balance at the end of the statement period is the unpaid principal carried into the next plan year. It is not all due now; only the scheduled monthly payments are due as they come due.

If you have questions about your plan, your balance, or a charge on your statement, contact customer service or write to the inquiries address shown in Section 7.

14. Definitions

Account / Plan. The 36-month equal-payment promotional financing plan identified in Section 1.

Amount Financed. The principal amount of credit extended to finance the goods, shown in Section 1 and the Truth in Lending Disclosure.

Annual Percentage Rate (APR). The cost of credit expressed as a yearly rate. The promotional APR for the Plan is 0.00% for the plan term.

Billing cycle. The interval between statement dates, generally one month.

Business day. Any day other than a Saturday, Sunday, or federal holiday.

Equal-payment plan. A promotional plan under which the Amount Financed is repaid in equal monthly installments over a fixed term.

Finance charge. The dollar cost of credit. For this Plan, the finance charge is $0.00 while the promotional rate applies.

Good standing. The status of the Plan when payments are made as scheduled and no default has occurred.

Margin. The percentage added to the Prime Rate to determine a variable rate, applicable only if the promotional rate is terminated.

Outstanding balance. The unpaid principal amount of the Plan at a given date.

Payment due date. The date by which each scheduled monthly payment must be received, the 14th of each month.

Prepayment. Payment of all or part of the outstanding balance before it is due. Prepayment is permitted at any time without penalty.

Prime Rate. The base rate published in a national business newspaper, used to set variable rates if applicable.

Promotional term. The 36-month period during which the 0.00% APR applies, subject to good standing.

Scheduled payment. The fixed monthly amount shown in the amortization schedule in Section 4.

15. Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Why is my APR 0.00%?

A: Your purchase was financed under a promotional equal-payment plan that carries a 0.00% annual percentage rate for the full 36-month term, provided the plan stays in good standing. No interest accrues under these conditions.

Q: Will I ever be charged interest?

A: Not while the plan is in good standing. Interest at the standard purchase APR could apply only to the remaining balance if a payment becomes more than 60 days past due and the promotional rate is terminated, as described in Section 6.6.

Q: Can I pay more than the monthly amount?

A: Yes. You may pay any amount up to the full outstanding balance at any time without penalty. Paying more reduces your principal and can shorten the term, but the scheduled monthly payment amount does not change.

Q: What happens if I pay it off early?

A: The plan closes when the balance reaches zero. Because there is no interest and no prepayment penalty, paying early simply ends the plan sooner.

Q: Why does my statement show a remaining balance?

A: The plan is repaid over 36 months. The remaining balance is the unpaid principal carried into the next plan year; it is not all due now.

Q: How are my automatic payments taken?

A: If you are enrolled in autopay, the scheduled payment is drafted by ACH from your linked deposit account on the 14th of each month.

Q: What should I do if a payment doesn't go through?

A: Contact customer service promptly. A returned-payment fee may apply, and autopay may be suspended until the issue is resolved.

Q: How do I update my contact or bank information?

A: Call customer service or update your information online. Keeping your information current ensures statements and notices reach you.

Q: Will this plan affect my credit?

A: We may report account information, including payment history, to consumer reporting agencies. On-time payments and missed payments can both be reflected in your credit report.

Q: Where do I send a billing dispute?

A: Write to the inquiries address in Section 7 within 60 days after the disputed item appeared on your statement, with your name, plan number, the amount, and why you believe it is an error.

Q: Is the financed equipment collateral?

A: No. This promotional plan is unsecured unless a security interest was separately disclosed and agreed at the time of purchase.

Q: Who is the lender?

A: The lender and statement issuer is Bryant Park Bank, N.A., which provides financing for purchases made through Sweetwater Financial.
