Origination consolidation (approx. $27,185.32) was disbursed in 2019. Payments through December 2025 are actual; 115 projected payments remain, with a projected payoff of 2035-07 and approximately $6,244.61 in remaining interest. Extra principal payments would shorten the term and reduce total interest.

Repayment Options

Standard repayment (current).

Fixed monthly payments of $212.00 until the loan is paid in full. This plan generally results in the least total interest paid over the life of the loan.

Graduated repayment.

Payments start lower and increase over time, typically every two years. Total interest paid is usually higher than under the standard plan.

Interest-only / reduced-payment relief.

Temporary plans may be available if you are experiencing financial hardship. Interest continues to accrue and unpaid interest may be capitalized, increasing your balance.

Refinancing.

You may be able to refinance to a different rate or term with a qualifying lender. Refinancing a federal loan into a private loan would forfeit federal borrower benefits; this account is a private/consolidated education loan.

Autopay benefit.

Enrolling in automatic payments may qualify you for a small interest rate reduction. Your payments are currently made by automatic transfer from your linked checking account.

Deferment & Forbearance

Deferment.

Under certain conditions, such as returning to school at least half-time, you may qualify to temporarily postpone payments. Interest continues to accrue on this private loan during deferment.

Forbearance.

If you are temporarily unable to make payments, you may request forbearance. Interest continues to accrue and may be capitalized, increasing your principal balance and total cost.

How to request.

Contact Crestline at 1-888-555-0173 before you miss a payment to discuss options. Approval is not guaranteed and is subject to program terms.

Borrower Rights, Credit Reporting & Important Notices

Credit reporting.

We may report information about your account to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults may be reflected in your credit report.

Applying extra payments.

Unless you instruct otherwise, extra amounts you pay are applied first to fees, then to accrued interest, then to principal. To target principal, include written instructions with your payment.

Tax information.

Form 1098-E reports the student loan interest received during the year. Crestline does not provide tax advice; consult a tax professional or IRS Publication 970.

Servicing transfers.

Your loan servicing may be transferred. You will be notified in advance of any transfer, and your payment terms will not change as a result of a transfer alone.

Error resolution & complaints.

If you believe there is an error on your account, write to us at the address above. We will acknowledge and investigate your request as required by applicable law.

Fair debt collection notice.

This communication is from a debt collector and is an attempt to collect a debt; any information obtained will be used for that purpose. If you are in bankruptcy or received a discharge, this is for informational purposes only and is not an attempt to collect a debt.

Additional Borrower DisclosuresCosigner release.

Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA).

If you are called to active military duty, you may be entitled to an interest-rate cap and other protections on obligations incurred before active duty. Contact us with a copy of your orders to request SCRA benefits.

Death and disability.

Your loan may be eligible for discharge in the event of the borrower's death or total and permanent disability, subject to documentation requirements and program terms.

Automatic payments.

You are enrolled in automatic monthly payments from your linked checking account. You may cancel or change automatic payments by contacting us at least three business days before the next scheduled payment. An interest-rate reduction may apply while enrolled in automatic payments.

How payments are applied.

Scheduled payments are applied to accrued interest and any fees first, then to principal. Amounts paid in excess of the scheduled payment are applied to principal unless you instruct otherwise in writing.

Capitalization of interest.

If you enter a period of authorized non-payment such as forbearance, unpaid accrued interest may be added to your principal balance (capitalized) at the end of the period, which increases the amount of interest you pay over the life of the loan.

Credit bureau reporting.

We report the status of your account to one or more nationwide consumer reporting agencies. Late payments may be reflected in your credit report and may affect your credit score.

Complaints and assistance.

If you have a concern we cannot resolve, you may contact your state regulator or the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau. We will provide the relevant contact information upon request.

Loan Agreement Terms (Summary)

The following summarizes key terms of your Credit Agreement. The full Credit Agreement governs your loan; in the event of a conflict, the Credit Agreement controls.

Promise to pay.

You promise to pay to the order of the lender the principal sum advanced, together with interest accrued on the unpaid principal balance, and all other amounts due under the Credit Agreement, in accordance with the repayment terms. Your obligation to repay is not contingent on the receipt of any benefit from your education.

Interest calculation.

Interest accrues daily on the outstanding principal balance from the date of disbursement until the loan is paid in full. The daily interest amount equals the outstanding principal balance multiplied by the daily interest rate, which is the annual interest rate divided by the number of days in the year. Interest is calculated on the actual number of days elapsed.

Application of payments.

We apply your payments first to accrued and unpaid fees, then to accrued and unpaid interest, and then to outstanding principal. If you pay more than the amount due, we apply the excess to principal unless you direct us otherwise in writing at the time of payment.

Default.

You will be in default if, among other things, you fail to make a required payment when due, you provide false information, you become subject to bankruptcy proceedings, or you die. Upon default, and after any notice and cure period required by law, the entire unpaid balance may become immediately due and payable.

Collection costs.

If your loan is referred for collection, you may be responsible for collection agency costs, court costs, and reasonable attorneys' fees to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Late charges.

If a payment is not received within the grace period after its due date, a late charge of 5% of the payment amount or $25, whichever is less, may be assessed, subject to applicable state-law limits.

Communications consent.

You consent to receive communications, including by telephone, text message, and email, at the contact information you provide, including from an automatic telephone dialing system or prerecorded voice where permitted. You may withdraw consent to certain communications as described in the Credit Agreement.

Electronic records and signatures.

You agreed to receive disclosures and conduct transactions electronically. Electronic records and signatures have the same legal effect as paper records and handwritten signatures.

Assignment.

We may sell, assign, or transfer your loan and our rights under the Credit Agreement without your consent. You may not assign your obligations. Your terms will not change solely because of a transfer of servicing.

Governing law and severability.

Your Credit Agreement is governed by applicable federal law and the laws of the state specified in the agreement. If any provision is found unenforceable, the remaining provisions continue in effect.

Entire agreement.

The Credit Agreement, together with any disclosures and amendments, constitutes the entire agreement between you and the lender regarding the loan and supersedes prior understandings.

Bankruptcy.

Education loans are generally not dischargeable in bankruptcy except upon a showing of undue hardship in an adversary proceeding. Nothing in this statement is a waiver of any right or remedy.

State-Specific Notices

The following notices are required for residents of certain states. Notices for states other than your state of residence are provided for completeness.

California residents.

A married applicant may apply for a separate account. As required by law, you are hereby notified that a negative credit report reflecting on your credit record may be submitted to a credit reporting agency if you fail to fulfill the terms of your credit obligations.

New York, Rhode Island, and Vermont residents.

A consumer credit report may be obtained in connection with your loan and in connection with updates, renewals, or extensions of credit. Upon request, you will be informed whether a report was obtained and the name and address of any agency that furnished it.

Ohio residents.

The Ohio laws against discrimination require that all creditors make credit equally available to all creditworthy customers, and that credit reporting agencies maintain separate credit histories on each individual upon request. The Ohio Civil Rights Commission administers compliance with this law.

Wisconsin residents.

No provision of any marital property agreement, unilateral statement, or court order applying to marital property will adversely affect a creditor's interests unless, prior to the time credit is granted, the creditor is furnished a copy of the agreement, statement, or order, or has actual knowledge of its adverse provision.

Maryland residents.

To the extent applicable, the lender elects to comply with the credit provisions of the applicable subtitle of the Commercial Law Article of the Maryland Code.

Utah and Massachusetts residents.

As required by law, you are notified that a negative credit report may be submitted to a credit reporting agency if you fail to fulfill the terms of your credit obligations.

Understanding Your Statement

Principal balance.

The amount you still owe, not including interest that has accrued but not yet been billed. Your principal balance decreases as you pay down the loan.

Interest paid (Form 1098-E, Box 1).

The total interest received on your loan during the calendar year, as reported to you and the IRS on Form 1098-E.

Scheduled payment.

Your fixed monthly amount under the standard repayment plan. Paying more than this amount reduces principal faster and lowers the total interest you pay.

Payoff amount.

The payoff amount is the principal balance plus interest accrued to the payoff date and any outstanding fees. It changes daily; request a payoff quote before sending a final payment.

Frequently Asked Questions

Why did my interest paid differ from 12 times my monthly payment?

Each payment is split between interest and principal. Early in repayment, more of each payment goes to interest; over time, more goes to principal. Box 1 of Form 1098-E reports only the interest portion you paid during the year.

Can I deduct the interest on my taxes?

You may be able to deduct student loan interest as an adjustment to income, but the deduction phases out above certain income levels and is subject to other rules. Crestline does not provide tax advice; consult a tax professional or IRS Publication 970.

How can I pay off my loan faster?

Pay more than the scheduled amount and direct the extra to principal, make biweekly payments, or apply windfalls to the balance. There is no prepayment penalty.

What happens if I miss a payment?

Interest continues to accrue, a late charge may apply after the grace period, and the missed payment may be reported to credit bureaus. Contact us before you miss a payment to discuss options.

Will my interest rate change?

No. Your loan has a fixed interest rate that does not change over the life of the loan, except for any rate reduction you earn through automatic payments.

How do I get a payoff quote?

Request a payoff quote online or by phone. The quote is valid through a specified date because interest accrues daily.

Can my servicer change?

Yes. If servicing transfers, you will be notified in advance and your loan terms will not change as a result of the transfer alone.

Where can I get help if I am struggling to pay?

Contact us to discuss temporary relief such as reduced payments or forbearance. Be aware that interest continues to accrue and may be capitalized.
