Cost-Basis Election & Tax-Lot Method

The default tax-lot relief method for this account is first-in, first-out (FIFO). You may elect an alternative method (such as specific identification or average cost for eligible funds) by notifying us in writing before settlement of a sale. For covered securities, we report adjusted basis to the IRS; for noncovered securities, basis is reported to you only. Changing your method may affect the gain or loss recognized on future sales.

Order Execution & Routing

We route customer orders to market centers based on a number of factors, including execution price, speed, and likelihood of execution. We may receive remuneration, such as payment for order flow, for routing orders to certain venues; the source and amount of any such compensation will be furnished on written request. A report of our order-routing practices is available under applicable SEC rules.

Account Protection

Securities in your account are protected by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) up to $500,000, including up to $250,000 for claims for cash, in the event the brokerage firm fails. SIPC does not protect against a decline in the market value of your securities. Additional information is available at sipc.org. Our clearing firm may also maintain excess-SIPC coverage; details are available on request.

Business Continuity Plan

Lakeshore Securities maintains a business continuity plan designed to address significant business disruptions. Depending on the severity of the disruption, we may transfer operations to an alternate site and expect to restore critical functions promptly. Because the timing and impact of disruptions are unpredictable, the plan is subject to modification. A summary is available on request and at lakeshoresec.com.

Privacy Notice

We collect nonpublic personal information about you from your account applications, your transactions, and consumer reporting agencies, and we share it only as permitted by law to service your account, process transactions, and report to tax authorities. We do not sell your personal information. We maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect it. Our full privacy policy is available at lakeshoresec.com.

Proxy Voting, Shareholder Communications & Householding

Unless you instruct otherwise, we may deliver a single copy of shareholder documents to multiple investors sharing an address (householding). You may request separate copies at any time. Proxy materials and issuer communications are forwarded to you for the securities you hold; you may elect electronic delivery to reduce mail. To change your delivery preferences, contact us.

Fund Performance History (Average Annual Total Returns)

Returns are net of fund expenses and assume reinvestment of distributions. Performance shown is that of the fund, not your personal return, and past performance does not guarantee future results.

Client Relationship Summary (Form CRS) — Key Points

We offer brokerage accounts and services to retail investors. In a brokerage relationship, you pay transaction-based fees, and we are required to act in your best interest at the time a recommendation is made, without placing our interests ahead of yours. We do not monitor your brokerage account unless we agree in writing to do so. Fees and costs reduce the value of your investment over time. For free, simple tools to research firms and financial professionals, visit Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Cash & Margin Account Terms

This is a cash account; you agree to pay for securities purchased by the settlement date. No margin borrowing is permitted in a cash account, and no margin interest was charged. Uninvested cash is swept to the designated money-market position. If you later add margin, separate terms, risks, and a margin disclosure statement would apply, including the firm's right to liquidate positions to meet a margin call without prior notice.

Anti-Money-Laundering & Customer Identification

Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information identifying each person who opens an account. When you opened your account, we asked for your name, address, date of birth, and other identifying information, and we may ask to see identifying documents. We monitor accounts for unusual activity as required by law.

Statement of Financial Condition & Regulatory Notices

A copy of our most recent Statement of Financial Condition, filed pursuant to SEC Rule 17a-5, is available for your inspection at our offices and on our website at no cost. We are a member of the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC); information about SIPC, including the SIPC brochure, is available at sipc.org or by calling 1-202-371-8300. To check the background of this firm or your financial professional, visit FINRA BrokerCheck at brokercheck.finra.org or call the FINRA BrokerCheck hotline.

Free Credit Balances & Cash Sweep

Any free credit balance in your account represents funds payable to you on demand. Pending investment, uninvested cash is automatically swept to the money-market position shown in your holdings, where it earns the applicable yield. You may opt out of the sweep and hold a free credit balance instead, which may earn a different rate. Sweep balances in a money-market fund are subject to the fund's prospectus and are not FDIC-insured.

Important Disclosures

Securities products are not FDIC insured, are not bank guaranteed, and may lose value. Brokerage accounts are carried by the clearing firm; member FINRA/SIPC. SIPC protection covers the net equity of customer accounts up to $500,000, including up to $250,000 for claims for cash.

Past performance is not indicative of future results. The value of investments will fluctuate, and shares may be worth more or less than their original cost. Mutual fund and money-market fund investments are subject to risk, including possible loss of principal; an investment in a money-market fund is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC. Brokered certificates of deposit are obligations of the issuing bank and are FDIC-insured subject to applicable limits; if sold before maturity they may be worth more or less than face value. Zero-coupon instruments pay no current interest and are more sensitive to interest-rate changes than coupon-bearing instruments.

This statement is not a tax document; refer to your Consolidated Form 1099 for amounts reported to the IRS. Review your statement promptly and report any discrepancy within the time required by your account agreement. Securities offered through Lakeshore Securities LLC, member FINRA/SIPC. Accounts carried by Apex Clearing Corporation.

How to Read This Statement

Your statement begins with a Portfolio Value Summary reconciling your beginning value, contributions, reinvested income, and change in market value to your ending value. The Holdings section lists each position with its cost basis, market value, and unrealized gain or loss. The Account Activity section details every contribution and reinvested distribution during the period. Income earned is summarized for tax purposes and reported separately on your Consolidated Form 1099. Review each section and compare it to your own records; report any discrepancy promptly so we can investigate.

Holdings are priced using sources we believe to be reliable; prices for thinly traded or zero-coupon instruments are estimates and may differ from amounts realized on sale. Cost basis is tracked using your elected tax-lot method and is adjusted for accrued original issue discount and reinvested distributions. The figures on this statement are not a substitute for your own tax records and should be reviewed with your tax adviser.

Definitions

Cost basis. Your investment in a security for tax purposes, used to compute gain or loss when you sell; adjusted for items such as accrued OID and reinvested distributions.

Unrealized gain/loss. The difference between current market value and cost basis on positions you still hold; not taxable until the position is sold.

Reinvested distribution. A dividend or capital-gain distribution used to purchase additional shares rather than paid in cash; still taxable in the year distributed.

Time-weighted return. A measure of investment performance that removes the effect of the timing and size of contributions and withdrawals.
