Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) Notices

NRE (Non-Resident External) accounts hold income earned outside India and are freely repatriable, principal and interest, subject to bank verification.

NRO (Non-Resident Ordinary) accounts hold income earned in India, such as rent, dividends, or pension. Repatriation from NRO accounts is subject to annual limits and documentation, including a chartered accountant's certificate (Form 15CA/15CB).

Residential status under FEMA is determined separately from tax residency. Account holders should keep the bank informed of changes in residential status.

Anti-money-laundering and KYC regulations require periodic re-verification of account holder identity and address.

Definitions

NRE account — Non-Resident External rupee account; interest is tax-free in India and the balance is fully repatriable.

NRO account — Non-Resident Ordinary rupee account; used for India-source income; interest is taxable in India with TDS.

TDS — Tax Deducted at Source; tax withheld by the payer (here, the bank) and remitted to the government.

IFSC — Indian Financial System Code identifying a bank branch.

PAN — Permanent Account Number, the Indian taxpayer identification number.

Repatriation — transfer of funds from an Indian account to an account outside India.
